

6 TAGE FREI FESTIVAL-RESIDENCE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF TANZPAKT STUTTART: CALL FOR ARTISTS FROM BADEN-WÜRTTEMBERG

"Transformation, imagination and new relationships - dissolving norms. Enduring uncertainty. Working on standstill. Designing something new. Be open."

This is the festival appeal for 6 TAGE FREI 2021.

Working processes, research and room for experiment play an important role in the performing arts. They generally remain hidden from the audience. Just as they are often underfinanced and receive little attention in funding programmes. We want to make this part of the artistic work visible in the festival 6 TAGE FREI.

It is not always a performance that creates publicity and makes art tangible, but often also a workshop, an informal presentation, a showing in the middle of the working process. In this way, the audience is given access to spaces in between, which form a counterweight to the pressure to produce results and the logic of working in projects.

An artistic laboratory offers artists a working residence in which they can develop and transform their own practice. It invites them to enter into new working relationships. The aim is to create a space of its own within the festival program by providing insight into artistic work processes. Formats such as installation, talks, performances and parties are conceivable. The main focus is on the design of the space. During the festival it is open to the public and makes the idea of the laboratory spatially experienceable.
